PRESS RELEASE

13 March, 1985

Eversince Jaafar Nimeiri seized power in Sudan 16 years ago, his despotic rule has been characterized by arbitrary arrests and violent ideological swings meant to serve nothing but his personal ends.

His recent dismissal and arrest of Dr. Hassan Turabi, his senior most advisor, and a large number of persons occupying high positions in his government and in public life is yet another episode in his long and ugly dictatorship. It is unfortunate that President Nimeiri has not learnt a lesson from history about the fate of the despotic rulers who care not for human rights or justice but are concerned solely with perpetuation of their power.

The Islamic Council strongly denounces and condemns President Jaafar Nimeiri's latest round of arbitrary arrests.
